BOARD POLICY

PUBLICATIONS

A. Samish Shore Lines Newsletter

The Samish Shore Lines is intended as a vehicle of communication for residents of Samish Island. The monthly print newsletter contains news and events of interest to Islanders. The Samish Island Community Club pays for printing of the newsletter, but items contained in the newsletter do not necessarily reflect the ideas or positions of the Community Club.

Privately-sponsored functions of a political or religious nature may appear in the community newsletter as long as they are intended as an announcement of, or an invitation to, an event of general community interest.

Advertising in the Shore Lines is accepted from island residents about island-related events, sales, and services. Due to space limitations in the newsletter, advertising from non-islanders or businesses cannot be accepted. Businesses in the area of the island may be featured in the form of a community interest announcement, at the editor's discretion.

B. The Samish Island Web Page

The Samish Island Web Page is intended as a vehicle of communication for residents of Samish Island. The electronic format features current information, images, documents, and other SICC-information. In addition to island news and events, the web site will also provide access to Community Hall Rental forms & schedules, SICC bylaws, policies & procedures, Samish Island history, maps and driving directions, festivals, resources, groups, and links to nearby Skagit and Washington state sites of interest to our community.

The Samish Island Community Club pays for maintenance of the domain name (SamishIsland.Net) and server space. Items contained in the newsletter do not necessarily reflect the ideas or positions of the Community Club.

Policies and Procedures affecting the Samish Shore Lines Newsletter above, also apply to the web page. Advertising for a business may take place in the form of a community interest announcement, but businesses wishing to promote their services must pay a small fee, as determined by the board, to be linked from the Samish Island web page.
